A BUNCH OF KICKS.

The peach crop is frosteted and ruined, I see. It's dead as a mackerel ever could be. Ah, well, it's no more than we ought to expect; The world, as a whole, is teetotally wrecked; The weather's gone wrong, and the market is dead, And I can't hear a song that is other than sad. And misfortune comes on without whisper of warning— And the coffee was cold at my breakfast this morning.

ADJUDGED INSANE

Son of One of the Victims of Lawrence Creek Flood in Ohio Asylum

Ripley Bee.

William T. Boone, a fourteen-year-old youth of Sprigg township, Adams county, Ohio, was adjudged insane last week and taken to the home for Feeble Minded at Columbus.

His mother, brother and sister were swept away and drowned in a freshet in Lawrence Creek, Ky., April 1st, and the rest of the family saved with great difficulty.

Since that tragic happening the boy has been a constant victim of melancholia, resulting as above stated.

The residents of Maysville and Mason county street."

will vividly recall the terrible rainfall and freshet which caused such damage to this city and the loss of life at Moraasburg, when Mrs. Daniel Boone and children were swept to death when their home was washed away in Lawrence Creek. The father, Daniel Boone, and his son, moved to Adams county, Ohio, after the fatality that overtook them.

Lexington Leader: "Friends and relatives of Mr. John H. Nixon are glad to know of his return to Kentucky after an absence of 42 years. Mr. Nixon was formerly of Mason and Fleming counties, but in 1866 left for Chico, California, where he married. His wife and two children died in the last few years, leaving him alone. He decided to return to his brothers and sisters. Mr. Nixon is in his 72nd year and is remarkably well preserved. He can either read or write without glasses. He is accompanied by his nieces, Misses Lena and Nancy Cooper, and all are visiting his sister, Mrs. Walker W. Spencer of 460 West Seventh

In an interview in which he discussed the opinion of Attorney General Breathitt in regard to the constitutionality of the last Legislature's appropriations for State schools, Judge A. Sullivan, author of the bill, says adherence to the Attorney General's opinion would mean closing the schools and that the Appellate Court on identical questions heretofore has given its approval.

NEW YORK'S BIG AUCTION SALE.

The largest auction sale in the history of the drygoods trade was held on August 12th, 13th and 14th in New York.

Over 30,000 cases of cotton blankets, canton flannels and cotton domes were disposed of in less than three days' time.

Over 800 buyers representing the largest jobbers in the country packed the auction rooms from early morn until late in the evening.

Maysville, as usual, was represented at this sale by Mr. A. L. Merz of Merz Bros., who is now in New York.

Old in Years, But "Young" in Ideas.

As we are writing this we are preparing our windows to exhibit our new line of Fall Suits. If any single novelty in the way of the incoming fall styles is left out of our stock it is our fault, for months ago we had pick and choice of the productions of the very best manufacturers in the country. Now take a glance at our windows, or better still, come in and try on a few garments; you will see the acme of ready-to-wear clothes. We specially invite youngsters who soon will return to their respective Colleges to come in and be shown our "College Brand" Suits. There is a "snap and go" to them that is "fetching" to the utmost degree. Our stock of Trunks represents anything you may need in that line. Probably the young man will want to supply himself with Fall Underwear. We have all kinds. Last, but not the least, Hanan, Douglas and Walkover Shoes. You will want a pair of one of these lines.

Accommodations For Sale

AT HALF PRICE AND LESS.

Sounds queer doesn't it? If a piece of goods is in a ten-yard length, we cut off two, give you what you ask, and the short end left helps to make the lot of bargains we offer today.

You're glad to be accommodated by just what you want and you're glad again to choose what you like from these short lengths and pay so little.

Bits of two to four yards, a few seven to ten-short pieces from all over the store. Not many silks, a fair collection of white and colored table damasks, but wash goods in lavish assortment; everything is represented, swiss, mull, batiste, gingham, lawn and here and there a bit of linen. Prices? Look above. You know that headline would never have appeared unless facts warranted it.

Don't delay—don't wander in when the best is gone. Come now.

BARGAIN ECHOES.

Government Homesteads And How to Secure Them

From Collier's Weekly, February 1st, 1908.

Wanted: An Opening.

"Where is this place? One who lives in an Eastern city writes this letter, one who is typical, surely, of many in whom adversity lately has caused serious thought about their lot in life:

"Is there any section in these United States to which the many men who are being daily thrown out of employment in the cities may emigrate and begin life again—begin, this time, as their own masters, or in some way that will secure them against being thrown out again at the next panic? The class to which I refer is composed of unmarried young Americans of the intelligent, physically hardy and ambitious type seen so frequently during the good times in Banks and offices—clerks, salesmen and the like, who have saved up from $500 to $1,000.

"Obviously there are such places, and there are answers to this man more truthful and cheerful than to lament the passing of Government free homesteads in the West."

From a recent publication of the C. M. and St. P. Ry.

Millions of Acres Open for Entry.

The opinion prevails to a certain extent that the Government Homestead Law has ceased to operate because so little agricultural land is now owned by the Government. This opinion is erroneous. There yet remain millions of acres of good farming land open for homestead entry, but until recently this land was useless for farming, owing to the great distance it was located from a railroad. So far as certain portions of South Dakota, North Dakota and Eastern Montana are concerned this condition has changed.

The Pacific Coast Line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway opens to settlement thousands of acres of the best farming lands. Already enterprising American farmers are securing homesteads along this new line. Trains are already in operation on this new line as far as Harlowton, Mont., connecting there for Moore, Lewistown and other points in the Judith Basin, Montana. It is expected that trains will reach Butte in the summer of 1908, and Seattle and Tacoma by the spring of 1909.

Free Homesteads in the West Have Not Yet Passed Away

Fergus county, Montana, contains over 1,000,000 acres of farm land open for homestead entry. In Custer, Yellowstone and Rosebud counties there are several million acres of Government land open for entry. In Butte county, South Dakota, are thousands of acres awaiting homesteaders.

The land is excellent for general or mixed farming. Uncle Sam gives you a cordial invitation to go out and help yourself to 160-acre farm. No drawing is necessary; first come, first served. When patented this land is worth from $10 to $18 per acre, and will constantly increase in value. The Government fees do not exceed $42 for homesteading 160 acres.

Since the time when the more adventurous of the early settlers struggled over the Allegheny Mountains there has never been a better opportunity for the ambitious young American than is now offered in the West by the building of this latest transcontinental railway—the Pacific Coast Extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway.

A pamphlet on "Government Homesteads and How to Secure Them" is free for the asking; also, several other publications giving information about this new country of interest to the workingman, farmer, orchardist, stockman, merchant, professional man and investor.

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

To Rivalled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists.
